

CIRCULAR HEAD MAYOR DARYL QUILLIAM'S MESSAGE 7 FEBRUARY 2019

This week is the last chance for nominations for the Circular Head Soroptimist Awards, which close this Friday. These awards celebrate International Women's Day and recognise women in Circular Head for their contributions to our community. If you know an unsung heroine you think deserves to be nominated, you find the forms on the Council website. Successful nominees will then be recognised at the International Women's Day celebration, which is being held on Thursday, 7 March 2019 in the Hall of Fame at the Circular Head Recreation Centre.

Last week I presented the 2019 Mayor's Education Fund Bursary to Lewis Nicholls at our Celebration of Education event. The purpose of the scholarship is to offer financial assistance to young people from Circular Head to help them undertake further study. Lewis attended Redpa Primary and Smithton High before graduating from Hellyer College with an outstanding ATAR of 98.5 putting him in the Top 100 TCE/ATARS in Tasmania. Lewis will be attending the University of Tasmania, Sandy Bay Campus and studying a Bachelor of Engineering with Honours degree. During this event, the Soroptimist International of Circular Head presented a scholarship to Kiara Thomas, while Caleb Franks was awarded a scholarship from the Rotary Club of Smithton. I'd like to congratulate all three recipients and wish all in the best in their studies.

Next week we will be seeing a large number of visitors to our district to attend this year's Devil Country Muster at Trawmanna. The Muster is on from Wednesday 13 February until Sunday the 17th and will include performances from some of the top country musicians in Australia. This is also a great opportunity for our local businesses to show off our region to the many mainland visitors, which has the potential to increase tourism for Circular Head in the future should these people go home enjoying their stay here. I would also encourage our local people to again attend this event to ensure it continues to grow.

Lastly, I'd like to thank all the Tasmanian Fire Service volunteers who have helped out in the wake of the Brittons Link fire in the past week. It is always great to see our community support each other at times like this.
